GROVES

George: Notorious petty criminal, Cock Road Gang member, and sometime lover of Lydia Caines

For some reason taken up by press as a Robin Hood romantic figure.

1808 stealing breeches from William Snellgrove of Keynsham, arrested 1809 at Chepstow Wool Fair. (See C.R.Gang by I. Wyatt, BRL.). 1810 admitted King's Evidence in respect of case against Joel Lovell, Wm Dunham, James Hall for robbing Francis Winbow, Bristol Assize, see FFBJ 21 April 1810; 1814: George Groves & J. Williams to Gloucester accused stealing banknotes from Wm Carter, butcher, St P & J, 9.4.1814.

"Between 5 & 6 o'clock, Wed. morning, G.G. who has frequently escaped clutches of the law taken at his house 3 miles from this City by Police Officers Evans, Harman, Wilkinson & Smith and committed to Gloucester Gaol for receiving Bombazit. (Perhaps "Bombazine" a twill cloth?) BMerc 10.2.1817

George, notorious thief. "G.G. alias George Crossman, well known in this City charged with attempting to pick the pocket of Stephen Hill, shoemaker at Salisbury. FFBJ 14.8.1819.

George Groves, 25, removed from Gloucester by habeas corpus having 50 yards of Bombazit, value 40 shillings, to Bristol Assizes. Acquitted 21.4.1817. Supposed to be in gaol at Fisherton, Wilts, but set at liberty, no bill having been found against him. "It is whispered however that the whole story is a hoax invented by the Captain himself and that when reported at Fisherton he was exercising his vocation in Bristol. 11.9.1819.FFBJ. For Aug 1820 see Glos Journal, 4.9.1820: Jan 1822, transported from Derby and believed to have been murdered in Australia. (See Pamphlet, BRL 3068) .
